

Terms and Conditions of Website Usage
Phillips University Alumni and Friends Association (PUAFA)
February 23, 2024

Our website, "<http://www.phillipsalum.org/>," has one purpose: to communicate, preserve, and perpetuate the heritage of Phillips University. Other parts of our heritage are Phillips University Legacy Foundation (PULF) and Phillips Theological Seminary (PTS). This policy does not direct their actions. They are mentioned as we are all offspring of our beloved Phillips University.

Until 2024, our website was mainly a place to buy memorabilia, share who had died, and let people know about events that were happening or had happened.

It is our intent to add a membership feature to our website which will provide a secure location to share information with other members of the Phillips community. To the extent you agree, this could include your contact information: name, email, street address. The membership registration form gives you the option to choose what to share within PUAFA, to members of your self-selected club, e.g. Varsity, Tenth Muse, and what information you'd like to share with PULF and PTS. This can range for Nothing to Everything. This membership feature will be password protected so that only members may have access to any of this information.

In addition to providing a place to connect with one another, we intend to provide a place for photos to be shared. We expect to provide a mechanism where members can update the In Memory page themselves. These features will require curating by as yet unidentified members. Only members of this website will be allowed to make changes to the In Memory information or to upload photos.

It is not our place to share with a third-party information about another member. By agreeing to these Terms and Conditions you are also agreeing to not share other members' information without their consent.

As this policy is a work in progress, it will likely be updated going forward, and notice of the changes will be sent to all registered members.
